VOL. V. NO. 216.

CHICAGO, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1899.

PRICE, 5 CENTS

WINNERS AT HAWTHORNE.

Ed Corrigan's big grey gelding, Colonel Bartlett, won the steeplechase at Hawthorne yesterday, making it two wins out of two starts for the ex-master of the beautiful course. Colonel Bartlett is by Riley out of Fanchette, and both his "daddy" and his "mammy" raced on local tracks, consequently this made him all the more popular and the big crowd seemed greatly pleased when the Colonel came cantering home an easy winner. In the betting Colonel Bartlett was the favorite and he was heavily backed. It was rumored that it would be impossible for jockey Doane to keep the big fellow from running out of the course and this helped to make a price against him. Doane kept him in the course all right enough and rode a skillful race. The gelding had speed galore and from the start he led all the way and was never in trouble.

Colonel Bartlett fences to perfection and judging from this race he can beat anything around here at the jumping game. Doane could have won away off by himself had he so chosen, but he drew the finish fine and at the wire was only a half length in front of Marble, Necedah and Gypceiver, who were lapped on.

If ever there was a false price offered against a horse the 15 to 1 quoted against Little Singer in the last event was one. This mare beat about the same bunch of horses at the same distance at Harlem Saturday and there was no reason to believe that she would not repeat which she did and showed more quality than she did in her last race. Master Mitchell rode Little Singer and after getting off in front made a runaway race of it. The mare opened up a gap of four lengths going the first three-quarters and eight lengths going the first seven furlongs. Then she began to tire but the others were legweary, too, and the consequence was she loafed home three and a half lengths in the lead. Between Jackanapes and Periwig there was a hot contest for the place and the latter got the decision by a nose.

Mr. W. F. Schulte seems to have a stable full of acrobats, and in the second race Alleviate turned a most perfect form somersault. The last time this filly started Mr. Schulte backed her heavily to show at even money, but she ran a bad race and finished far back. This performance soured Mr. Schulte on the filly, and yesterday when she won he did not bet on her. After the race there was some ugly talk about the running of Mr. Schulte's horse. This was entirely out of line, for Mr. Schulte is a man who likes to see his horses run and win and is always trying. He breeds all the horses he races, and is in the business simply for sport and is not a gambler. Alleviate to win had to run one of her best races, and she did. Conley laid away with her to the stretch, and then came with a rush. He got to Montgomery at the eighth post, and from there home simply hand rode the filly. She beat Montgomery a half length, and he was a length in front of the 8 to 5 favorite Georgie.

Tom Barrett's colt, Tommy O'Brien, won the first race in a terrific drive by a nose from Highland Lad. Nutt rode Tommy O'Brien and clearly outfinished McJoynt.

After Livadia won the third race she was run up $400 over her entered price of $400 by "Texas" J. H. Smith. The filly's owner, however, retained her.

Starter Dwyer in a measure presented Flammora with the fifth race. He let this filly off flying about a length in front and nothing ever got near her. She was 3 to 1 and well backed. The favorite, Sam Fullen, was never dangerous and finished fourth.

ORIGIN OF THE DERBY.

The Pall Mall Gazette gives the following as the origin of the English Derby and Oaks:

Since the reign of James I, who founded the Epsom meeting during his residence at Non-such its locality has been regarded as classic ground by our race-loving public, and with each succeeding year the interest in the Derby seems constantly to grow. Most persons are acquainted with the fact of the great race of the year having been founded by the twelfth Earl of Derby in the year 1780, but few, we venture to state, possess any knowledge of the romantic circumstances that led up to the event. In the little parish of Woodmansterne, two or three miles from the Banstead Downs, is a fine country mansion of red brick, standing in a well-wooded park of 180 acres, known as "The Oaks." In the middle of the last century this site was occupied by what had originally been a hunting box, erected by a society called the "Hunters' Club," and christened by them "Lambert's Oaks," from the fact of its being surrounded by oak trees planted by a family named Lambert, the ancient lords of the manor.

At the period of which we are speaking, however, the house had been abandoned by its sporting owners and converted into a wayside inn, boasting no sign-board and doing a trade in Surrey home-brewed ale of the most bucolic kind. The situation was delightful, for the house stood high and commanded very fine views, and in the year 1743 attracted the attention of a dashing young soldier, by name Captain John Burgoyne, who had then just created a great sensation in society by running away with Lady Charlotte Stanley, daughter of the eleventh Earl of Derby. The gallant captain, a natural son of Lord Bingley, from whom he inherited his debonair and spendthrift proclivities, thought that this would make a delightful home for his bride. Accordingly he bought out the innkeeper, lock, stock and barrel, and without actually demolishing the old residence commenced to build on it a commodious country house in the Elizabethan style of architecture. It was not long, however, before the young couple found themselves in pecuniary difficulties, and a reconciliation having been effected with the young lady's father, the latter bought the villa to keep it in the family.

It was owing to this chain of circumstances, therefore, that the earls of Derby acquired property in this, for them, new part of the country, and here was given, on June 9, 1774, in anticipation of the marriage of Lord Stanley with Lady Betty Hamilton, the celebrated fete champetre, the first of the kind in England, under the superintendence of Burgoyne, now a lieutenant general, who, as a dramatist also, of no mean repute, collaborated with Garrick in providing the book. Now for the origin of the Derby. The eleventh earl bequeathed the property to his grandson, Edward Smith Stanley, the twelfth earl, who, on May 14, 1779, founded the famous Oaks stakes for fillies, so named from his sylvan retreat at Woodmansterne, the first winner being Bridget, a bay mare, foaled in 1776, by King Herod-Jemima, the property of the noble founder himself. This success so pleased the earl that in the following year he started the Derby Stakes, so named out of compliment to him, the first winner being Diomed, a chestnut colt, foaled in 1777, the property of Sir Charles Banbury, Bart. Therefore, if Lieutenant-General Burgoyne, whose military career closed with his inglorious surrender to the American army, at Saratoga in 1778, had not run off with Lady Charlotte Stanley, it is more than probable that there would have been no Derby or Oaks.

Monadour, place, 1 to 5. Lady Meddlesome, place, evens. Maurice, place, 2 to 5. No show betting.

Winner—Ch. c. by Falsetto—Pearl Thorn.

Post 1 minute. Start good. It was a hard drive at the end and Colonel Roosevelt appeared to foul Misericordia and Guldin in getting through. A claim was made but not allowed. Knightburner showed speed and ran a good race. Misericordia seemed to like the turf and showed great improvement. Elfin Conig did not run to form although the hot pace was against his chances.

Scratched—12356 Inishfree, 110.

Winner—Ch. c. by Kantake—Nattot.

Post 2 minutes. Start good. Won pulling up. King Barleycorn's race was a startling reversal of his recent form. He was heavily backed. Hurly Burly is good, but she was overweighted. So was May Hempstead. Maid of Harlem ran consistently and likes a distance.

Scratched—(14393) Decanter, 137; 14374 Sir Hubert, 109.

RACING FORM'S SELECTIONS.

DAILY RACING FORM has no private information. It seeks none. Its calculations over the horses as they are grouped daily at various racetracks are purely those of general performance and ability as shown by the records and the application and knowledge of its editors and the reports of its correspondents. These calculations are printed daily. Nothing is hidden. All that the staff of the paper knows is put into type. If the selections made nightly are sought by persons outside the daily delivery lines of the paper they will be sent by Western Union night rate messages (collect) at $5 per track per week. Such service is not solicited, but if it is considered valuable, will be performed.

Winner—Ch. c, by Teuton—Alma B.
Off at the first break to a good start. Won in the hardest kind of a drive; second, third and fourth were driving just as hard. Tommy O'Brien, under a strong ride, just got up in time to win. Nutt was hard at work on him all the way. The colt is a loafer and needs to be hustled. The finish on Highland Lad was rather weak. He was the best and should have won. Donna Anita ran a good race. She was close to the rail all the way and saved all the ground possible. The first five were all in a heap at the finish. Bettie R. seemed to have a winning chance on the stretch turn but weakened under pressure. Dramburg was a false alarm. He never was dangerous.

Scratched—14351 Brown Thrush, 107; 14177 Jake Weber, 113; 14070 Red Cross, 118; 14419 True Fit, 107.

Tommy O'Brien, place, 3 to 1; show, 3 to 2. Highland Lad, place, 6 to 5; show, 1 to 3. Donna Anita, show, 5 to 1. Dramburg, place, 1 to 2; show, out.

Post 3 minutes. Start good for all but J. H. C. Won handily at the end after an early drive; second, third and fourth were driving to the limit. Alleivate improved very suddenly and ran a good race. She came from behind gamely in the stretch under punishment. Montgomery had speed galore and made a good showing. Under punishment in the stretch he swerved badly, but caused no damage. Georgie was forced into submission by Montgomery in the first half. Fair Deceiver finished strong. So did Etholin. J. H. C. was practically left at the post.

Scratched—14433 Maggie Davis, 96.
Overweights—Etholin, 14 pounds.

Winner—Ch. f, by Wawekus—Leonora Richards.
Off at the first break to a good start. Won driving and all out; second and third were also driving. Livadia had the most speed and nothing could ever catch her. She is a fairly good filly. Brother Fred did well. He seemed to get very leg weary and swerved at the head of the stretch, causing slight interference. Lillian Reed, after a rough journey, finished quite strongly. Seattle quit badly at the end. He seemed to be of little or no account. Kastaine ran a dull race.

Scratched—14382 Emma Smith, 94.
Overweights—Annie Oldfield, 3 pounds; Isen, 1; Lillian Reed, 1.

Livadia, place, 8 to 5; show, 7 to 10. Tappan, place, 6 to 5; show, 3 to 5. Brother Fred, show, 3 to 1. Seattle, place, 8 to 5; show, 7 to 10.

Winner—Gr. g, by Riley—Fanchette.
Post 12 minutes. Start poor. Won well in hand. The others were driving. Colonel Bartlett had speed to loan and fenced like a bird. He outclassed the others and was never extended. Marble finished very strong. So did Necedah. The latter is improving at the jumping game. Gypeiver tired badly in the stretch and swerved considerably. The race was too one-sided to be interesting.

Scratched—12682 Glen Shine, 128.
Colonel Bartlett, place, 1 to 2; show, out. Marble, place, 8 to 5; show, 7 to 10. Necedah, show, 2 to 1. Gypeiver, place, even; show, 1 to 3.

Winner—Ch. f, by Flambeau—Fanny Lewis.
Post 7 minutes. Start straggling. Won very easily; second and third were driving. Flamora was given the race at the start. She got away flying and was never in trouble. She is a good filly. Ocone did well and seems to improve with each race. Alice Turner got the worst of the start but made up her ground gamely and finished strongly. Sam Fullen has seemingly gone back. Hagerdon performed badly.

Scratched—14419 Innovator, 100; 14335 Lady Curzon, 103; 14086 Strathbroock, 103; 14232 Nul-lah, 103; 14238 Sardine, 100; (14335) Silver Fizz, 108; 14335 Wig, 105; 14401 Capron, 106; 14419 The Monk, 103.

Winner—Br. m, by Burgomaster—Maggie B.
Off at the first break to a good start. Won easily. It was a long, hard drive for second place. Little Singer had an abundance of speed and made a runaway race of it. She was never fully extended and clearly overrated herself. Periwig outgamed Jackanapes for the place.

Both ran to their notches. From the time standpoint it was a good race. Jessie S. was right there. Croesus was badly beaten. This was not his race. Victorine went to the post lame. Scratched—14433 Bitter Root, 107.
Little Singer, place, 5 to 1; show, 2 to 1. Periwig, place, 6 to 5; show, 1 to 2. Jackanapes, place, 7 to 10; show, out.
